PHILO MCGIFFIN'S COPY; NAVAL DUTIES AND DISCIPLINE INSCRIBED AT THE TIENTSIN CHINESE NAVAL ACADEMY

Item Number

50

- Who? George Emery
- What? Philo McGiffin's Personal Copy Of NAVAL DUTIES AND DISCIPLINE, WITH THE POLICIES AND PRINCIPLES OF NAVAL ORGANIZATION, Printed in 1865
- Philo McGiffin is one of the more colorful graduates of the United States Naval Academy. The "Wild Man of '82" was famous for his pranks such as the midnight salute of cannons flanking the Mexican Monument and rolling cannon balls down the steps of Bancroft Hall. Not allowed to enter the Navy upon graduation because of the lack of available officer vacancies, he volunteered to serve in the Imperial Chinese Navy. In 1894, after several years as an instructor at the Chinese Naval Academy in Tientsin, McGiffin agreed to act as an advisor to the captain of the new battleship Chen Yuen at the battle of the Yalu River in 1894. Despite being badly wounded during the battle he assumed command of Chen Yuen when her commander fled the bridge, and managed to bring her battered hull safely back to port. He returned to the United States after the battle, but suffering from partial blindness and in constant pain he took his own life in a New York hospital in 1897.
